Discussion, Analysis, and Poetic Practice

For discussion, analysis, and poetic practice purposes students will be encouraged to:

- Discuss the poems that comprise Cowboy Up!
- Analyze the structure and word choice used to create the poems
- Consider ways that the photographs compliment the poems
- Create a word bank
- Write poems of their own inspired those included in the Cowboy Up! collection

In the following lessons Cowboy Up! poems will be grouped together in six clusters. Students will engage in a number of discussion and analysis activities. In doing to, they will be creating a word bank with terms and expressions that they can later use to write poems of their own. Lessons are formatted in a simple, repetitive manner allowing for ease in instruction and delight in the process.

Students will be writing and illustrating the following types of form poems:

- The Pyramid Poem
- The Cinquain
- The Fibonacci

A review of the following parts of speech is beneficial as the students will be asked to identify specifics ports of speech in the poems. Remind students that:

- Nouns are the names of things
- Verbs are action words
- Adjectives are descriptive words

Students will need the following materials to complete the discussion, analysis, and poetic practice lessons.

- The book Cowboy Up!
- Print outs of Impressions and Word Study practice sheets
- Print outs of the poetic forms they'll be working with
- Markers or crayons to illustrate their work

So, let's saddle up and get going, cowboys!

"Tomorrow" (4), "Love My Lariat" (6), and "Gathering" (8)

- 1. Which poem is your favorite? Why?
- 2. What is the meaning behind the poem "Tomorrow"?
- 3. How does this poem make you feel?
- 4. What is a lariat? What purpose does it serve?
- 5. Describe the photograph of the boy holding a lariat. Look at his expression. How is he feeling?
- 6. What is a rodeo arena?
- 7. Do you think that the poem "Tomorrow" and "Gathering" complement each other in some way? How so?

Using the grid below, have the child look closely at the poems to discover the theme of the poems, as well as find the nouns, verbs, and adjectives used in the poem. Have them write these words in the spaces provided. These words will used as inspiration for The Pyramid Poem.

Poem Title	Theme	Nouns	Verbs	Adjectives
Tomorrow
Love My Lariat
Gathering

"That's My Grandpa" (10), "Grand Entry" (12), and "Woolly Riders" (14)

- 1. Which poem is your favorite? Why?
- 2. "My Grandpa" is written like a conversation between two people. Which lines are spoken by the little girl? Which ones are spoken by her grandfather? How do you know?
- 3. What competitions has the grandfather participated in? What competition is the little girl interested in?
- 4. What does it mean to be a champion?
- 5. In "Grand Entry," what is meant by the line "...carry in the colors"?
- 6. What is your impression of the Cowboy Prayer?
- 7. In "Woolly Rider," the lines next to the second clock are short and rhythmic, like the bucking of the sheep. Read them carefully. Do you get a sense of the rhythm in the words?

Using the grid below, have the child look closely at the poems to discover the theme of the poems, as well as find the nouns, verbs, and adjectives used in the poem. Have them write these words in the spaces provided. These words will used as inspiration for The Pyramid Poem.

The Pyramid Poem

Objective: To write a free verse poem using a selection of sensory adjectives.

Materials:

- Pencil
- Cowboy Up!
- Warm-Up Sheet found on page 7
- Rodeo! the Poem found on page 8
- Markers or crayons

Procedure:

- There are a number of wonderful adjectives describing the rodeo in Cowboy Up! Reread the book carefully, highlighting words, phrases, and exciting things depicted in the photographs. Have fun with this.
- Lead the children in a discussion of the rodeo.
  - $\circ$   $\;$  Describe the sights of the rodeo. How does it look? What can be seen?
  - How does a rodeo smell?
  - What sorts of things do people do at the rodeo?
  - What sounds can be heard at the rodeo?
  - How does the rodeo make them feel?
- After a discussion about the sensory aspects of the rodeo, direct the child to the Warm-Up Sheet on page 9. Brainstorm as many sensory words as possible beneath the categories listed.
- Using the Cowboy Up! the Poem grid found on page 8, choose sensory words from the lists created in the Warm-up Sheet and write them in the spaces provided.
- The completed poem will look something like the sample below:

Dog

Slobbery dog Licking, smiling dog Stinky, silly, funny dog Running, sunning, loving, brown dog My dog

• Illustrate the poem about the rodeo in the space provided above your Pyramid Poem about the rodeo!

The Cinquain

This poetic form takes its name from the word quinque, "five." The cinquain (SING-kane) is like the haiku in that it is composed of a set number of syllable (22) and a per line syllable count (2-4-6-8-2). A good cinquain will flow from beginning to end rather than sounding like five separate lines. (Janesczko 56).

Oh, cat

are you grinning

curled in the window seat

as sun warms you this December morning?

-Paul B. Janesczko

Using the Poem Analysis grids, create a cinquain. Either structure the poem using the parts of speech approach printed on the form found on page 12 or simply follow the syllabic structure modeled in the cinquain above.

Poem Title_____

Line 1: (1 word noun-2 syllables)

Line 2: (2 adjectives-4 syllables)

____

Line 3: (3 action words-6 syllables)

Line 4: (4 feeling words-8 syllables)

"Matador of the Rodeo" (32) and "Heading Home" (36)

- 1. Which poem is your favorite? Why?
- 2. What do you think about the rodeo clown? Is he brave or downright crazy?
- 3. What is happening in the poem "Heading Home?" Did the child in the poem coming home a champion?
- 4. What does Dad mean when he says, "Even the stars tumble?"
- 5. In the great sport of rodeo, is it all right to feel scared? Feel defeated? To get back up and try again?
- 6. The book takes a reader through an entire day at the rodeo from sunrise to sunset. Did you enjoy yourself at the rodeo? What part of the day was the best for you? What part was the most frightening? What part was the most exciting?
- 7. Ready to come back next weekend? Well then, cowboy up. Let's go!

In the grid below have the child look closely at the poems to discover the themes, as well as find the nouns, verbs, and adjectives used in the poem. Have them write these words in the spaces provided. These words will used as inspiration for The Fibonacci.

Poem Title	Theme	Nouns	Verbs	Adjectives
